Writing

I have heard of the common proverb "Where there is a will, there is a way". I understand it like this - that anyone can achieve a goal if they strive for it. I believe that this proverb is very good and meaningful. My reasons for this support are as follows: ^{1/50} I think that this proverb can help people get the courage to deal with things that intimidate them, and that it can also help them get through frustrating obstacles that they have no control over.

Since I was young I have wanted to make computer video games, but when I ^{1/50} started to try to make them, they always turned out bad. But since I didn't give up, and put in the effort, now I can make way better games.

I believe that my story relates to the proverb "Where there's a will, there is a way", and that ^{1/50} this proverb should be used to encourage, motivate and give people the power to do what they want.
